During this lesson the words “RISK-FREE” are used with reference to your learning time whilst you are trading in a demo-account. The words ‘risk-free’ ONLY apply to demo-trading when there is no real money involved. Trading with real money a live-account is NOT risk free. You should not trade live with money you cannot afford to lose.

This short lesson is included to give you a slightly different perspective on the actual VALUE of compounding, especially to people with limited capital

You should now know for sure that our trading approach is NOT one of “get-rich-quick.” That’s the rock that almost every beginner has foundered on for at least 20 years. In fact, there is no get-rich-quick in forex.

Forex trading is about using (investing) money you already have (your capital) - to make more money.

You invest your money to get a “return" - we call this a “return-on-investment" or “ROI".

This process is sometimes called “leveraging" our money.

It follows therefore that you must have some money to start with. It’s impossible to “leverage" (to make a “return" on) nothing.

Safety of capital is a hugely important aspect of our trading and the next two lessons concentrate on this, but for now, we’ll concentrate on the importance of really understanding this business of ROI.

Let me illustrate this by telling you that if I have 6,500 dollars or pounds in savings - and I keep this money in a savings account at the bank - at the time of writing this, I would be lucky to get a return of 1% per year.

Please think about that, I invest my money in a savings account at the bank and my ROI is just ONE percent per YEAR

If I take that money out of the bank and invest it in a good, high-yield bond, I might get a much better deal of as much as 9.9% per year. But to get that rate of return, they would lock my savings in for a five year term, with no access for the full 5 years. I can’t add to it and I can’t touch it.

If I become even mildly successful at forex, I could expect to average a minimum of, let us say, six pips a week - which yields a return on 104.5% per year.
Suppose I only achieved half of that.

At THREE pips a week - I would still be making a return of over 43% per year. And make no mistake, most people could reasonably expect a FAR better average than 3 pips a week, given a little time to perfect their performance.

So what is at stake here is the possibility of making major returns compared to ANY kind of investment you may have seen - PROVIDED you are prepared to put in the RISK-FREE demo-trading-time necessary to become expert, before trading with real money.

And yes - this does take time - but I will repeat that it is RISK-FREE whilst you work at perfecting your new skills in demo - however long it may take you to prove - in demo - that you can do this.

Bearing all of this in mind - my contention is that safe trading for the kind of returns you are now aware of is infinitely better than leaving savings lying in the bank, doing nothing for you.

But the burning question is - what if you don’t have $5,000 to $10,000 to start with? Or even $3,000 to start with?

What if all you have to start with is just $1,000 or £1,000?

Is that money-management spread-sheet you learned to use in the last lesson any use to you at all, if you only have $1,000 or £1,000?

Well, I want to show you that even if you only have very limited capital, provided you are willing to look at a planning a realistic 3 or 5 year plan, you too can take advantage of great ROI’s.

Because - let’s face it folks - what return could you normally expect to get from an investment of only $1,000 or £1,000? Not very much right?

Nevertheless, IF you are prepared to put the time in, this video will show you that with just $1,000 or £1,000. Whoever you are - you could completely change your life by trading part time, in your spare time, to build towards making a huge difference to your financial circumstances for ever.

This video is going to show you exactly how - but before you watch it - realize that these plans do take time.
11. The Right Perspective

Be prepared to put in the time because it’s that “time” you spend, that compensates for lack a of serious funds at the beginning. Given time, you can build to the serious funds that take you to financial independence.

So here is one video with two plans for those with limited funds, a five year plan and a three year plan that illustrate the possibilities that are open to everyone.

Enjoy …

So - let me say that this is not necessarily about people with $1,000 or £1,000. It’s about the utter flexibility of exponential compounding in a SAFE way to make your money work for you - however much or little you have - to make life-changing differences to you whole financial outlook in a small amount of time each week.

In the next lessons, you are going to learn that unlike ANY other traders anywhere, we do not have to spend long hours at the computer to make our money.

It may take you a little while to organize your life a little differently in order to do this. But everyone you will be meeting from our community as we go forward, makes their money in just a few hours a week.

So much is possible here, for so little time - but of course, I must include that it won’t all fall into your lap automatically. We all have to grow into our new way of life gradually.

NEXT - we are going to start on the disciplines that make up our world-beating trading system. I call them “disciplines” because that’s what they are - but they are also called “strategies” or sometimes “trading-rules” - but they all mean the same thing in the end.

A complete set of disciplines we follow, that dovetail together to make-up what we call out “Trading System.”
You already learned about one of these disciplines, the “money-management” discipline that you learned about in Lesson 10…

That’s what the spreadsheet - the 0.25% of capital per pip and the max risk of 2.5% overall was all about. We follow a strict compounding discipline, we know exactly what we are doing when it comes to managing the money we trade with.

These disciplines are a set of simple procedures that are proven to turn you into a safe and consistently profitable trader.

If you follow them without deviation, you will keep your capital safe, cut down the margin for error, and have the best opportunity to consistently make money because following them will give you a trading edge.

There are strategies for entering and exiting trades, a money-management strategy, several trading strategies, plus a combination of entry criteria that alerts you to possible positive trade opportunities.

Now, it all seems a bit much I know, but you will not be learning about everything all at once.

Please understand that these simple practices are combined, to give us one of the safest, high-profit trading systems anywhere.

We are exceptional because nobody who follows our rules and sticks to them has ever lost their capital.

We are also exceptional in that we have some live traders who have a positive to negative trade ratio of better than 95% - something that is unheard of elsewhere

If you couple that to an average-loss figure of less-than 0.425% you should begin to recognize something of the power and value of a unique, but well-proven trading system.

The keys to the system are the combination of exit-strategy and money-management strategy. Our success is entirely due to - and ONLY works because of the check and balance achieved by strict adherence to our exit strategy.

Couple our average of a 1% ROI for every four pips to what you now know about the power of daily or weekly compounding, and you have one of the most powerful licences to print money there is.

Please think about the following statement before turning the page…

“As I write this, my bank, an international household name, offers a rate of interest on my savings of less than 0.5% per YEAR.

Whereas - just ONE 4 pip trade on a Monday morning gives me DOUBLE that amount, in a matter of minutes.”
Remember the compounding videos in the Lesson 10?

Over a year - just three pips a day four days a week - yields a return-on-investment of 319% compared with the 0.5% the bank offers.

But once again, although this is the undisputed mathematical truth of it - let’s negate that statement and say - “suppose we only did half as well as that, and only achieved three pips a day two days, instead of four days a week…”

Three pips, twice a week, would still give is a return of over 100% a year at 104.35%

But I want you to see this at yet a different level again, and this is really what most people miss altogether in their understanding of what forex can do for them.

Let’s half that again, and assume only ONE 3 pip trade a week. We would still make a whopping 43.14% a year compared to the ridiculous 0.5% a year offered by that bank.

Please think about this - it's the crux of understanding and appreciation…

ONE three pip trade per WEEK - yields 43.14% - your money is working for you.

If you understand this, you’ll truly understand what you can achieve with forex and why it is so desirable to have a system like ours.

There is no ‘get-rich-quick’ in forex. But the potential IS life-changing. Even as a part-time, occasional trader, would you like to be adding to your pension-pot or disposable income by over 43% a year?

THAT’S the perspective I want you to keep in mind here. Sure, as you'll see in our daily bulletin, many people achieve 10, 15, 20, up to more than 50 or 60 pips a week on occasions.

But keep in mind that once you can achieve small 1 or 2 pip trades here, you will have made a huge difference in where you can go in life. The little pips add up to BIG money.

So is it a case of laughing all the way to the bank?

Unfortunately, no - it isn’t.

The downside is that it will take you a few months at least to learn and truly appreciate and practise our strict rules and strategies. It’s a simple system. With us simple does not necessarily mean ‘easy’ - but it does mean SAFE.

The prize is life-changing money, and for most of us, definitely worth the effort to become expert at our system in order to be in a position to change your life completely and work towards complete financial independence.
11. The Right Perspective

So whether you want to give up your J.O.B, pad out a pension - or simply put your money to work to make money for you instead of it lying in a bank doing NOTHING.

investing in forex, and making your money work for you to make more money is a no-brainer - isn’t it?

So, now, the next two lessons will have you learning about the most important “exit-strategy” and will introduce you to two things.

1. An actual exit-strategy practice routine that will always be with you.

2. Reporting your every effort centrally so that I can assist and help you.

Please do not hesitate to start this. You are roughly half-way through the course, and the most important and meaningful part is yet to come.

Because it is of the utmost importance that you get the next lessons under your belt, the course stops dead after these two lessons, and waits for your reports to me, before continuing.

This is because some people never get round to doing these practice exercises and they are so important - and it is so important that you get used to reporting - that we don’t go forward with actual trading until you start the process off.

This is a personally coached course, I need to be able to help you right from the off.

From here on in - it is ALL about actual trading. Look forward to it ;-)

As with many of the lessons, it’s worth taking the time to read this lesson again. It is SO important that you have the right perception on forex - please read it again and consider it fully.
